

I Gave My Heart to the Angels (Entregué el Corazón a Los Angeles)

(music by Peter Allen)

I am a man who wanders who never settles down I went to where the stars are where the sun falls to the ground I came from here and yonder I have come from all around I will not travel farther for with her I am found

I gave my heart to the Angels the Angels captured me it took the love of a stranger to set my spirit free

A town for every season for every face and fame she reaches out to greet me with arms that know no shame it only stood to reason she would have a foreign name she gave her love so freely it set my soul aflame

I gave my heart to the Angels ...

She welcomed me with open arms she bathed me in her sea dried my tears with sunny charms her love flows endlessly now I am always with her and even when I roam I carry warmth and happiness as tidings from my home

I gave my heart to the Angels ...
